Biography

Pearson Clinical Assessment

Lawrence G. Weiss, PhD is Vice President of Test Development for Pearson Clinical Assessment, North America. He oversees all research and test development activities related to the company's psychological, educational, speech, language, and occupational therapy products. He also advises on test development activities for the company's international business partners.

Dr. Weiss has presented widely on both intelligence and personality in 12 countries. He has authored or co-authored the following books:

- WISC-III Cross Cultural Analyses: Culture and Children's Intelligence (2003)
- WISC-IV Clinical Use and Interpretation (2005)
- WISC-IV Advanced Clinical Interpretation (2006)
- WISC-IV Clinical Use and Intervention (2008)
- WAIS-IV Clinical Use and Interpretation (2010)
- BAYLEY-III Clinical Use and Interpretation (2010)

In addition, he has authored or coauthored 20 journal articles 12 technical reports, and 10 other book chapters.

Dr. Weiss holds a doctorate in industrial and organizational psychology from Texas A&M University (1990), and a master's degree in clinical psychology from Trinity University (1978). He lives in San Antonio with his wife of 23 years, Judy Ann. The Weiss' have two college age sons.